What is said to be the finest baby boy that has arrived in this section lately, made its appearance last Thursday morning. If you don't believe it is the "onliest" baby just ask Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Griffin.

Mrs. C. E. Morrison, of Hartford, and Mrs. J. N. Moorman, of South Carrollton, were summoned last week to the bedside of their mother, Mrs. Melvina Reynolds, who is very ill at her home at Reynolds Station.

Messrs. J. E. Bean, M. P. McDowell, T. S. Marks, Hartford; A. N. Fulton, Luther Brown, Echols; J. T. Sutton, Adaburg, and John Chinn, Beaver Dam, have remembered THE HERALD quite substantially within the past week.

The Ohio Circuit Court will likely adjourn today. This is the first time in several years that the docket has been cleared in less than the allotted time. There has been a great deal of litigation disposed of during the present term.

Marriage license since last week: Lonnie Mitchell to Clemmie E. Jewel, Albert N. Emory to Clarissa A. Morris, W. T. Sanders to Ida B. Miller, Wm. S. Blisset to Susie Senevagh. Hiram Keith to Laura Martin.

Miss Hatler, daughter of Mr. Marion Hatler, living near Rosine, who has been attending school at Beaver Dam, has been stricken down with smallpox at the latter named place and is quite sick. We understand there are only four cases of this disease in Beaver Dam at present.

An entertainment will be given at College Hall next Friday night by the classes of elocution and music under the tutorage of Misses Grace Roll and Carrie Woerner. The exercises will consist of dialogues, essays and short speeches, interspersed with the latest musical selections. Admission free.

Mr. Leslie Cooper has been granted a good sized pension by Uncle Sam and will also get considerable back pay. Leslie was one of the brave boys who charged up San Juan hill. He was pierced through and through by a Spanish bullet and suffered terribly from exposure on the battlefield after being wounded. He is badly and permanently disabled and deserves all the pension folks can do for him.

Died at his residence four miles north-east of Hartford last Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, of pneumonia, Mr. H. C. Felix. His remains were interred at the family burying grounds yesterday at 2 o'clock in the presence of a large circle of friends and relatives. He leaves a wife and five children and a host of friends and relatives to mourn his death. Mr. Felix had been a consistent member of the Northern Methodist church for many years.

The Beaver Dam Gleaner has again changed hands and assumed a different proprietorship. Mr. W. H. Holt, a printer from Paducah, has bought the interest of Mr. W. Fred Long in the paper, and Mr. Owen Williams has also bought an interest in the office. Prof. S. C. Stevens still remains one of the proprietors, and it is understood that each owns a one-third interest. The boys are dicker for a Pronty cylinder press and will endeavor to improve the Gleaner in several ways. We wish them success.

Hugh Edward, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Taylor, was taken ill the latter part of last week, but not seriously. The doctors seem to think it is smallpox, but if so, pronounce it of the same light character that has been prevalent in this section of country for some time. Mr. Taylor's folks live out on the Beaver Dam road, several hundred yards from the center of Hartford. They have been quarantined. This is the first and only instance that the disease has manifested itself in Hartford. Every precaution has been taken by the town authorities and the public, and a spread of the disease is not probable.

In another column of THE HERALD to-day will be found the law card of Mr. G. B. Likens, who has recently been granted license to practice law. Mr. Likens was already quite familiar with the law before he formally entered upon the study and practice of same. He was Clerk of the Ohio Circuit Court for several years and having a natural aptitude for the legal profession, he concluded to make it a life work. Having thoroughly fitted himself for the work, he feels confident that he can attend to any business in his line that may be entrusted to his care, in a manner entirely satisfactory to his clients. He has office room with Messrs. Smith & Simmerman, next door to the Hartford House.

Dr. A. C. Caperton, Leitchfield, who has been in Hartford the past ten days, will leave to-day or to-morrow for Beaver Dam for a week's stay. Dr. Caperton is agent for two of the best selling and most interesting books now upon the market. One is entitled "Darkness and Daylight, or Lights and Shadows of New York Life," the other is called "Echoes from Pulpit and Platform," an authentic account of the life and work of the great evangelist Moody. Dr. Caperton is one of the most honest and conscientious canvassers we ever saw and he therefore meets with much success in selling his books. The people of Beaver Dam and vicinity should profit by his presence and not lose the chance to buy one or both of the works he has in charge.

A joint meeting of the miners and operators of District No. 23, comprising Western Kentucky, was held at Beaver Dam last week, for the purpose of arranging a scale of wages. The meeting lasted several days, but the participants failed to agree. The miners want the Indianapolis scale, which is a 23-per-cent advance over present wages. The operators offer a 10-per-cent advance. A compromise will likely be effected which will be satisfactory to all concerned for the present. The meeting was addressed by various operators and miners, and everything passed off quietly. Failing to adjourn to meet again on March 26--next Monday. This will give ample time for consideration among

THE ASSASSIN NAMED.

Said to be a Negro, Now Hiding in the Mountains of Eastern Kentucky.

"Tallow Dick" Combs, a mulatto of Perry county, and a former partisan in the French-Eversole feud, is said to have been named to the attorneys for the Commonwealth as the man who shot Gov. Goebel. Sergeant F. W. Golden, of Barbourville, who has turned State's evidence and who is now at Winchester, is said to have given the name. Combs, along with other negroes, was among the mountaineers brought to Frankfort, and was boarded near the State House. His board money was sent over from the State House. Among the receipts found on W. H. Culton, one of the men arrested for conspiracy, was one for money paid Bettie Pittman for the board of Combs and others.

The assassin of Gov. Goebel is said to be in the mountains, and Attorney Campbell says it would require an army to arrest him unless county officers gave aid. The cases of Powers, Davis and Culton were called at Frankfort Monday, but were postponed till Friday. More details of the conspiracy have come to light. It was at first intended to kill Goebel by asphyxiation, but plans were changed. The assassin used a steel bullet. The bullet is in possession of the Commonwealth.

Grand Jury Speaks Out.

The Hardin county grand jury, just adjourned at Elizabethtown, makes the following report, after finding many indictments:

To the Judge of the Hardin Circuit Court: We recommended many necessary improvements in the county jail, among them a bath-tub to be put in the jail and screens to the windows to prevent articles being drawn into the jail by the prisoners. We recommend the painting of the court house, repairs to chimneys, roof and cupola, and that the fountain in the yard be removed.

"We would further recommend to the Hon. Robert Wintersmith, Mayor of Elizabethtown, that he have an ordinance passed to compel all business houses to close on Sundays. We recommend that butchers close at 7 a. m. and ice men at the same hour. Bakers, cigar and tobacco dealers are classed as merchants."

The jury also recommends that all the people here attend church every Sunday. The Mayor has already put the advice into practice, and this will be a very quiet town on Sundays. Even the drug stores have placards on their windows which read: "No goods sold on Sunday except medicine."

As Seen from Far-away Montana.

The Anaconda (Mont.) Standard, an independent newspaper, has the following to say in regard to the political situation in Kentucky:

Whatever may be thought of the merits of the case originally, the position Mr. Taylor is now assuming is untenable either in law or in ethics. He assumes to pardon prisoners before they have been so much as tried for the crime of which they are accused. He refuses point blank to recognize the courts of the State. It was not enough for him to dispute the validity of the Legislature; he must attack another co-ordinate branch of the government; with a wave of his hand he pretends to dismiss the entire judiciary of the State on the specious plea of partisanship.

If Taylor's theory is correct, the Governor of a State may step between the courts and any man charged with crime; he may say to the courts: "I believe you are prejudiced, therefore I order this man to go free." At the outbreak of the civil war certain southern Governors committed some amazingly unconstitutional and revolutionary acts; but not even at that time, nor at any other time since the United States was organized as a nation, has the Governor of such a phenomenal monkey shine as that just put by this man Taylor. Palpately he is a freak and a crank; practically he is an anarchist.

Whatever Goebel was, whatever Beckham may be, this fellow Taylor is the worst type of pin-head that ever got into politics.

Notice.

Anyone contemplating building a fence, would do well to call on or address Mr. John S. Mosley, Hartford, Ky., who represents the Williams wire fence. He puts up any kind of fence from the plainest to the finest at prices to suit the times. Farm rights for sale.

After Thirty Years.

OWENSBORO, Ky., March 17.--After thirty years, C. W. Reynolds, who was convicted in the Davies Circuit Court for manslaughter and given five years in the penitentiary, but made his escape while on route to Frankfort by jumping overboard from a boat, has been heard from. A Constable at St. Mary's, Va., wrote to Circuit Clerk Bedford here, saying that Reynolds was there, and asking if he was wanted here.

A Fiendish Attack.

An attack was lately made on C. F. Collier of Cherokee, Iowa, that nearly proved fatal. It came through his kidneys. His back got so lame he could not stoop without great pain, nor sit in a chair except propped by cushions. No remedy helped him until he tried Electric Bitters which effected such a wonderful change that he writes he feels like a new man. This marvelous medicine cures backache and kidney trouble, purifies the blood and builds up your health. Only 50c at J. H. Williams' Drug Store.

Help Come Too Late.

CHICAGO, March 17.--Mrs. Mary Lynch died from starvation to-day in a hotel at No. 341 State street.

For some years she had been a widow, and had supported herself and child, but when she fell ill, this was impossible. Not one person in all this city went to her relief until it was too late. A policeman brought her food, when there was no longer need of it. As he entered, he

TWO SENATORS' TESTIMONY.

Tell What They Know of Catarrh and Pe-ru-na.

HON. EDWARD DWYER.
[Senator 17th District, Chicago, Ill.]

HON. PORTER JOHNSON.
[Senator 4th District, City of Chicago, Ill.]

Hon. Porter Johnson, who has served four years as State Senator from the Fourth District in the city of Chicago, Ill., and who also is the first Democratic Senator ever elected from that district, writes: "I can heartily recommend Pe-ru-na as a catarrh cure. It cures when all other remedies fail. I applied to several doctors, but they were not able to cure me."

"I took the remedy for fifteen weeks and am now entirely cured. It has been a year and a half since I was cured, and I consider my cure durable. I was afflicted with the catarrh for five years. My catarrh was chiefly located in the stomach."
